Adjournment Today Unlikely

BRIGHT LINES—Sunday motorists making use of U. S. 30 will find newly-painted lines to aid them in keeping on "their side of the road." This truck is shown as it repainted center lines on the highway, east of the city. The operation is part of the usual restriping of state and federal highways. Monday crews will work on U. S. Route 42 from Morrow county to Medina county. State highway patrolmen warned motorists that they can be fined $25 for crossing freshly-painted lines. Warning signs will be placed at all newly-painted areas.—(News-Journal photo)

Sweeping FCC Probe Asked In Congress

A resolution calling for a sweeping investigation of the Federal Communications commission and that body's methods of handing out radio broadcasting licenses was scheduled for quick approval by the House of Representatives in Washington today, International News Service reported from Washington.

Rep. Forest A. Harness, Indiana Republican, introduced the resolution calling for an FCC inquiry, and declared that the action stems from "innumerable complaints that have been coming from members of Congress over a long period of years," International News Service stated.

Associated Press reported Harness also stated that the investigation would go into preferential treatment accorded Edward Lamb, Toledo lawyer who last March was granted five radio licenses by the FCC, including one in Mansfield which Lamb this week relinquished.

Lamb has been under continuous fire from The News-Journal and from members of Congress for his past record of communistic writings, affiliations and associations, and The News-Journal had exposed "errors" in Lamb's financial statements to FCC, statements which are required by law to prove a radio station applicant's responsibility and ability to make proper use of radio broadcasting rights if and when granted.

COMMITTEE GIVES OK

Harness told Associated Press that a five-man committee would be set up, if the investigation resolution is approved in the House, to determine whether the FCC "has licensed or proposes to license" radio stations owned or controlled by communists or members of communist-front movements.

The resolution to bring about a thorough airing of the Federal Communication commission's handling of radio licenses and supervision of existing stations was approved late yesterday by the House Rules committee, Associated Press stated. Chairman Leo Allen, chairman of the committee, said that the resolution would reach the floor for final action before Congress adjourns.

Rep. F. Edward Herbert (D-La.) on May 5 criticized Lamb's writings on the Soviet Union and attacked in Congress the FCC's grant to him of numerous radio permits. Lamb is the principal stockholder in Unity corporation which operates radio properties. Lamb, an attorney and author, earlier this week voluntarily surrendered an FM station permit in Springfield as well as in Mansfield. He advised the commission he wished to concentrate his efforts on other outlets.

The Lamb stations include television outlets in Columbus and Erie, Pa., FM stations in Toledo and Erie, and a standard station in Toledo. He has an application pending for a standard station in Columbus and for television facilities in Toledo.

Lamb told Associated Press in Toledo that he would be "highly pleased" if the FCC would investigate his Unity corporation, through which many of his radio dealings have been maneuvered.

Defends Ban On Wallace

Hummel Files Reply In Court

COLUMBUS —(U.P.)— Secretary of State Edward J. Hummel today carried his second fight with the Ohio Wallace-for-president group to the state supreme court.

Hummel yesterday filed an answer to the mandamus suit brought by the Wallace forces to compel him to accept their nominating petitions and to place the names of their candidates for president and vice president on the November ballot as independents.

The secretary of state, in his answer, gave two reasons for his refusal to allow the Wallace candidates names on the Ohio ballot:

1. That the Wallace candidates are, not legally entitled to be nominated for offices in Ohio and their names are not entitled to be placed on the ballot because they cannot qualify under the "loyalty affidavit" requirement of the state elections law.

2. That there is no legal provision for nomination of independent candidates for election as President, vice president or presidential electors by name.

Under the "loyalty affidavit" provision of the law, independent groups are required to make affidavit that they are not controlled by any foreign group or power. Although the Wallace group filed such an affidavit, Hummel rejected it, claiming that several members of the state Wallace-for-president committee are either communists or "fellow travelers."

Fuss Blocks Aid Accord

WASHINGTON —(AP)— The administration's foreign aid program was imperiled today by "two immovable objects" sitting one billion dollars apart on the Senate-House conference committee on foreign aid funds.

Senator Bridges (R-N. H.), chairman of the joint committee, applied the "immovable" label after efforts to reach a compromise between the House appropriation and a Senate figure more than $1,000,000,000 higher broke down completely last night.

The senator called the group together again today. But he was pessimistic over chances to reach agreement before tonight's scheduled adjournment.

Senator Taft (R-Ohio), chairman of the Senate Republican policy committee, was more confident. "These things always happen," he told newsmen, "but they generally get together again."

Senator Vandenberg (R-Mich.) led the fight for Senate adoption of the $6,125,710,228 fund to be used over a 12-month period. But the House cut that sum, and voted to spread it over 15 months —thus increasing the cut.

Food Employes Win Pay Raise

CLEVELAND —(AP)— Employes of four retail food store chains and independent grocers won pay raises between $5 and $13 weekly in a new contract announced today.

The contract covers about 2,800 workers. The agreement was announced by Peter Formica, president of the AFL Retail Clerks council.

THEATER DIRECTOR DIES

LONDON —(AP)— The death of Conal Holmes O'Connell O'Riordan, director of Dublin's Abbey theater was announced last night.

Deadlocks Delaying Congress

GOP Leaders Hope for 'Break'

WASHINGTON — (AP) — House Speaker Martin (R-Mass) said today he believes it is "impossible" for Congress to adjourn finally tonight.

Only a "break" in the legislation log jam, Martin said, would let the legislators get away.

"We've just got too much to do," he said.

Martin made the statement to reporters after a conference with Senator Taft (R-Ohio).

Whether Congress will return between the Republican and Democratic conventions, or after both of them, he said, has not been decided.

Three hours earlier, Taft, chairman of the Senate GOP policy committee, had mentioned the possibility that Congress might be forced to put off quitting "until maybe Monday."

Martin spoke shortly after the Senate had removed one of the big barriers to adjournment by passing a compromise draft bill after an all-night filibuster.

A conference committee wrangle over the amount of foreign aid funds was another delaying factor in the adjournment rush.

FARM BILL IN TROUBLE

The conference committee trying to match up a new Senate long-term farm bill with a House-passed 18-month extension of the present price support program also ran into trouble. Senator Aiken (R-Vt) said after a late night session that there can be no compromise—either the senators or the representatives must give in completely. They, too, were scheduled to try again this afternoon to work out the differences.

Also before a Senate-House committee were differing bills providing money for the atomic energy commission, the Veterans Administration and other government corporations. The Senate had approved a $5,855,308,581 appropriations — $60,259,920 more than the House.

Senate consideration of these House-passed bills was blocked as well:

1. A housing measure, with the controversial public housing and slum clearance provisions of the Senate bill knocked out. There were signs that the Senate might accept the House bill—approved yesterday 318 to 90—rather than risk further delay in a conference committee.

2. A compromise bill permitting immigration of 205,000 European refugees in the next two years. The House passed it yesterday by a voice vote and Senate approval was expected—if the bill could get to the floor.

3. A $450-a-year pay increase for postal workers.

Dad Admits Death Charge

EVERETT, Wash. — (U.P.) — Wayne Williams, 31-year-old father of four children, told authorities today he beat his wife and four-year-old daughter with heavy rocks and shoved them over a cliff on the rugged coast of Puget Sound.

The wife, Lucille, 27, died. The daughter, Mary Bernice, suffered a fractured skull, broken collar bone, numerous cuts and bruises and nightlong exposure to the weather. Physicians said she had a "good chance" to recover.

Williams was held in the county jail here pending action by the prosecutor's office.

Medina Picked As Film Site

MEDINA —(AP)— The seat of Medina county 27 miles southwest of Cleveland has been selected by Pathfinder magazine as the locale of a movie, "Hometown America."

The selection was made because the village—its population in the 1940 census was 4,300—believes in doing things in a big way despite its size.

Medina in wartime consistently set the pace by being first to oversubscribe war bond and other campaigns. One of the early victory ships was named for it because of its record.

PLANT ELECTION ORDERED

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The National Labor Relations board today ordered elections to be held among groups of employes of the Fisher Body plant at Hamilton, O., to determine collective bargaining agents.

Little Eva's 'Weightiest' Taft Backer

PHILADELPHIA —(AP)— Little Eva was in town today, ready to throw her weight behind the presidential candidacy of Sen. Robert A. Taft.

Backers of the Ohio senator promptly labelled her as the "weightiest" supporter of his drive for the Republican presidential nomination. They hoped she would help tip the scales of the GOP convention in his favor.

Little Eva, it should be explained, is a two-year-old, 500-pound elephant. She was borrowed from a circus, equipped with campaign regalia and flown here to give the Taft backers a living example of the traditional Republican symbol.

Russia Cuts Rail Traffic Into Berlin

Action Follows Currency Reform

BERLIN—(U.P.)—The British set up an aerial shuttle between Berlin and the west today to handle the traffic cut off by the Russians to prevent the eastward flow of reichsmarks made worthless by currency reform in the western zones.

All British passenger traffic to and from Berlin will be by air beginning late today, military government authorities announced.

Special planes were being brought to the continent from England to handle the travel pinched off aground by the sealing of the Soviet zonal border.

American plans for coping with the problem posed by the Soviet traffic restrictions were not made public at once. Last Easter week when a similar situation was in effect, a U. S. air route was set up.

The full extent and implications of the border blockade were not apparent at once. All inter-zonal passenger train traffic was suspended but there had been little if any passenger travel by train since the March crisis.

The new tangle, the latest in a long series, was brought on by the currency reform announcement yesterday by the Americans, British and French.

They will put in circulation tomorrow a new Deutsche mark, replacing and invalidating the virtually worthless reichsmark.

The western allies forbade the import or export of reichsmarks in the western zones. They announced no program for enforcing the ban.

Officials Retain Posts

All officers of the Richland County Foundation, an organization to receive and distribute charitable gifts according to the wishes of the donors, have been re-elected for a one-year term, it was announced today by the executive board.

The foundation is now holding $145,000 of its funds for expenditure by Friendly House settlement in the erection of its new building on North Mulberry street. The sum was assigned to the settlement by the Foundation last January.

The organization has received a number of bequests from private individuals and industry. Where no beneficiaries are named by the donors the trustees assign the funds for use in ways which they think will best serve the community from which the money was contributed.

George W. Stephens is chairman, Paul R. Tappan, vice chairman, and Norman L. Wolfe, secretary-treasurer. Wolfe also was named to a three-year term on the executive board.

Ohio GAR Ranks Number Only 2

COLUMBUS —(AP)— Two 103-year-old men who wore the blue in the war between the states will hold the 82nd annual state encampment of the Grand Army of the Republic opening here Sunday.

The sole survivors in Ohio, they are John H. Grate of Atwater and John R. Bennett of Waynesfield. Affiliate groups of the GAR also will gather for the four-day meeting.

SECOND VICTIM DIES

ELYRIA —(AP)— Ralph Vanamburg, 19, died today, the second victim of a collision of two automobiles here last night. Mrs. Muriel Roberts, about 30, was killed in the crash.

2 Named As Boys State Colonels

DELAWARE —(AP)— Gov. Jack Mason of the Buckeye Boys State today copied an old Kentucky custom of appointing honorary colonels. He showed restraint, however, naming only two.

Cited for outstanding service, they were John A. Difrancisco of South Euclid, city solicitor, and Alfred (Sandy) Wishart of Warren, chief of the legislative reference bureau of the general assembly.

ARMY 'GUINEA-PIG'—The larder was being filled today at the home of Mrs. Ruth Wilson, 25 Hedges street. She expects to do a lot of extra-fancy cooking, starting Sunday. Her son, Pvt. Edgar W. Hiles (above) is coming home tomorrow after having spent five weeks existing on Army "survival rations." Hiles was one of 11 Army men from the Third Armored division at Fort Knox, Ky., who spent five weeks seeing how well men could exist on "survival rations." The five specially baked crackers shown in front of Hiles as he sits in a bed in Metropolitan hospital, New York City, plus a cup of water providing 250 calories made up one of Hiles's experimental meals. The men were allowed no water except for drinking purposes, hence the heavy beard on Hiles's face.

Unit to Be Activated Sunday

Planes to Salute Air Guard Members

Fifty P-51 fighter planes from Air Guard squadrons in four states will zoom over Mansfield tomorrow afternoon in a salute to the city's new 164th Air National Guard Squadron.

Members of the squadron will be sworn in at ceremonies at the Mansfield airport by Col. Lamont Saxton, instructor for the 55th Air Guard Fighter wing.

Maj. Gen. C. W. Goble, Ohio adjutant general, is expected to head the list of speakers at ceremonies to begin with a band concert at 1:30 p. m. Others who are expected to attend are Brig. Gen. K. C. Cooper, assistant adjutant general; Maj. Gen. Leo H. Kreber, commanding general, 37th Division, Air National Guard, and Brig. Gen. E. H. Zistel, commanding general of the 55th wing. Members of their staffs and wing commanders from the 55th Fighter Wing, also will attend.

Members of the new Mansfield unit will gather at 10 a. m. for an organizational meeting prior to the airport ceremonies. The general public will begin arriving about 1:30 p. m. to hear a concert by the Ashland band which will begin at 1:45 p. m.

Mayor Roy W. Vaughn and the Air Advisory committee will join the military officers on the speakers' stand where they will be called upon for brief talks.

The 164th squadron will march onto the field and stop in front of the speakers' stand adjacent to hanger No. 7 where Col. Saxton will administer the oath to the squadron members.

Following the activation ceremonies of the new squadron, members of the unit, their families and the speakers will meet in the squadron hangar for a reception.

ROPE ENTANGLES BOY

CAMBRIDGE—(U.P.)—John Henderson Eckelberry, 10, was in serious condition here today after his parents found him hanging with a rope around his neck that was caught on a tree limb.

Three Crash Clues Bared

WASHINGTON — (U.P.) — Investigators are examining three possible clues today in the hope of turning up the cause of one of history's most baffling airline disasters—the DC-6 crash at Mt. Carmel, Pa.

It was learned these are:

1. Statements of eyewitnesses who said they saw pieces falling from the big United Air Lines transport before it smacked into a transformer, killing 43 persons.

2. Possible engine fire in which there was intense interest because, it was disclosed today, there have been four engine fires in other DC-6's since they returned to service last March.

3. The possibility, however thin, that the planes' pilots were overcome by carbon dioxide escaping through the circulation system from some point in the plane where it might have been emptied to put out a fire.

Parents Identify Body In Coffin

AKRON—(AP)—The sealed coffin of Air Force Lt. Garrett E. Peterson, 20, killed in 1945 flying the Burma - India route, was opened under court order yesterday.

The parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Peterson, said they were satisfied the body was that of their son.

Policy-Makers Study Prop Drop

Aim Swat At Living Costs

PHILADELPHIA —(AP)— Republican convention platform drafters leaned favorably today toward a farm group plan for taking a swat at the high cost of living—particularly of food and farm fiber products.

That plan would lower artificial props the government maintains under farm prices after this year.

If put into effect, it would allow a lower level of food prices than the present farm program, providing, of course, a new emergency shortage did not develop.

A resolutions subcommittee on agriculture put the idea in a suggested farm plank. It was set to be considered by the full committee today along with planks on other domestic and foreign issues drafted by eight other subcommittees after two days of public hearings.

Chairman Ancher Nelson, a Minnesotan, said his farm subgroup was deeply impressed by concern spokesmen for three major farm organizations expressed over the domestic price situation.

He said they were anxious to get the existing farm price support setup modified before it kicked back on farmers. The farm leaders testified that present support levels could easily promote farm surpluses and a consequent spectacle of the government spending millions, perhaps billions, of dollars holding up prices.

Stage Set For GOP Big Show

PHILADELPHIA — (UP) A wide open Republican national convention with four to ten ballots necessary to nominate a presidential candidate was shaping up here today as the GOP clan gathered in a mood of exuberant confidence.

So far, this convention wears no man's collar. There isn't a boss in sight who can control it as of today.

A stop-Dewey movement of some proportions was developing in a last whirl of maneuvering before the convention opens Monday.

Sen. Robert A. Taft's chance to win the presidential nomination bulged upward with these activities. Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York is practically assured of top position on the first presidential ballot now scheduled for next Thursday. That situation is drawing some of the others toward informal alliance against him. Reports of a possible Taft-Stassen deal persisted.

DUFF LEADS FIGHT

Gov. James H. Duff of Pennsylvania is emerging as a bulwark of the stop-Dewey movement. Duff is in bitter conflict for control of the fat 73-vote Pennsylvania delegation. He is estimated to have about 40 at his command.

The Pennsylvania party wing led by Joseph R. Grundy and National Committeeman G. Mason Owlett is plugging for Dewey and apparently controls most of the other delegates. Pennsylvania had become a key state for both Taft and Dewey forces and the senator has been gaining strength there after a late start.

A Pennsylvania caucus Sunday night probably will not bring the dispute to a showdown.

All candidates and dark horses are expected to be on the ground here tomorrow. Taft, Vandenberg and Speaker Joseph W. Martin jr., arriving from Washington.

Warren is east bound on a special train bearing his delegation of 53 votes and scores of rooters and newsmen and women.

City Doused By Showers

Rain Gives Crops Another Boost

Showers which fell in Mansfield early today gave rapidly growing crops another boost. More rain was forecast for this afternoon and tonight.

Sunday will be fair and cool, the weatherman said.

Electrical and rain storms were particularly severe in northern Ohio last night, with some damage reported from lightning. Heavy downpours temporarily flooded streets in Akron and Cleveland.

Akron had 1.67 inches of rainfall with much smaller amounts reported in other sections. Mansfield airport reported only .01 of an inch of rain in the 24-hour period ended at 7:30 a. m. today, but the fall was heavier in Mansfield.

Heavy clouds passed to the north and south of Mansfield this morning and again about noon, but the city escaped with light showers.

Ohio Dairy Queen Named

COLUMBUS —(U.P.)— Auburn-haired Shirley Chaney, 20, of Wilmington, reigned today as Ohio dairy queen after she was picked from 13 state finalists here last night.

Miss Chaney, secretary to the Clinton county superintendent of schools, will make a seven-day tour of the state.

The contest was sponsored by the Ohio Junior Chamber of Commerce.

BOND SET AT $50,000

CLEVELAND —(AP)— Elmer S. Whiting, charged with extortion after his arrest in Canton, was lodged in county jail in Cleveland today after bond was fixed at $50,000. The FBI says he is accused of getting some $25,000 from Joseph J. Cohen of San Francisco.

Measure Approved By Senate

House to Act On Compromise

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The Senate passed a compromise draft bill by voice vote today after breaking an all-night filibuster.

As it now stands—subject to House approval—the measure would start drafting men aged 19 through 25 for 21 months service, starting 90 days after final enactment.

Approval by voice vote came after the Senate first broke the filibuster of Senators Taylor (D-Idaho) and Langer (R-ND) and then got into a heated squabble over whether or not the bill actually had been passed.

Senator Ives (R-NY) presiding, first ruled that the draft compromise had passed. Then after a storm of protests he reversed this ruling and said it had not.

Taylor (D-Idaho), who had been ruled out of order for breaking Senate rules, managed to regain the floor during the uproar.

Weary senators thought he was beginning another stretch of filibustering.

But Taylor talked only a few minutes and then gave up.

Senators applauded and shouted approval of the compromise and rushed it over to the House.

End of the filibuster and passage of the bill came after one of the stormiest scenes on the Senate floor in many years.

BANGS GAVEL VAINLY

At times several senators were shouting at once, with Ives banging his gavel vainly.

First there was argument about whether Ives had broken Senate rules by declaring the bill passed while Senators Taylor and Pepper (D-Fla) were trying to speak.

Ives finally decided he was wrong about passage.

Then there was another caustic flurry about whether Taylor, barred for breaking Senate rules, could begin talking again.

Ives ruled that Taylor had this right.

The roaring argument about whether the draft bill had passed or not came only a few minutes after Taylor was directed to take his seat and quit talking for violation of Senate rules.

Chairman Gurney (R-SD) of the Senate armed services committee pulled a compromise draft bill from his pocket and asked Senate approval.

He listed several of the Senate-House conference decisions, reached during filibuster and suddenly asked for a vote.

Senator Ives called for a voice vote and there was a chorus of "ayes."

Lewis Fights Pension Ban

BULLETIN

WASHINGTON —(U.P.)— President Truman today cleared the way for the government to get a new no-strike order against the United Mine Workers by appointing a board to report on the deadlocked soft coal dispute.

★

WASHINGTON — (AP) — John L. Lewis told Justice T. Alan Goldsborough today coal operators producing 21,000,000 tons annually are siding with the miners in their pension fight.

Lewis submitted an affadavit at the start of a hearing on a petition of coal operator Ezra Van Horn for a court order against Lewis.

Van Horn is seeking the order to halt pension and other welfare payments from the $40,000,000 fund collected in the past year from a ten cent royalty. Van Horn, as the operators' trustee for the fund, objects to a money-spending plan, which has been approved by Lewis and Senator Bridges (R-N.H.). Bridges is neutral trustee for the fund.

Lewis said several coal companies have notified Van Horn they "have disapproved, disavowed and disassociated themselves from this litigation. He said these companies include the West Virginia Coal and Coke company headed by Charles Dorrance.

Lewis asked the court to dismiss Van Horn's petition for an injunction.

House Draft Milder Than Senate Bill

Comparison Shows Major Variations

WASHINGTON —(AP)— Here is a comparison of major points of the two draft bills before Congress.

The Senate passed its bill 78 to 10 last Thursday. The House voted a delayed-action draft bill Friday.

Registration: — Senate, 18 through 35; House, 18 through 30.

The Senate bill would require a special registration of doctors, dentists and medical specialists up to 45. This was voted down by the House.

Induction:—Both 19 through 25.

Service:—Senate, two years; House, one year.

Volunteers:—Senate, up to 161,000 18-year-olds could volunteer for a year of training, then serve six years in a reserve unit; House, men of draft age could enlist in any armed service for two years.

The House bill would allow 18-years-olds to enlist for a year of active duty not only training —in the regular armed forces.

Exemptions:—Most veterans, under both bills. Senate, men who have had 18 months' active duty in the armed services since 1940, and those on active duty 90 days or more between Dec. 7, 1941, and Sept. 2, 1945. House, men who have served a year since Sept. 16, 1940. Those with between 90 days' and a year's service would be exempt if they joined a reserve unit.

Start of Draft:—Senate, as soon as draft machinery could get started after signing of the bill into law. House, not until the President ordered and Congress agreed. He could not order until after next Jan. 31.

Deferments:—Both bills would authorize the President to set up deferments for occupation, dependency, and special reasons such as scientific study. Both bills would defer high school students until graduation, or age of 20, whichever came first, and college students until the end of the school year. The Senate bill would exempt married men. The House bill does not mention them.

Total Armed Services Strength: —Senate, 1,795,000 men; House, 2,005,882.

RESERVE DUTY IDENTICAL

Reserve Duty:—Both bills would require drafted men to serve five years in reserve units after their active duty. Both bills would allow them to discharge all obligations by volunteering for an extra year of active duty.

Conscientious Objectors:—Senate, those objecting to combat or non-combat service would be assigned to special work "of national importance" under civilian direction. House, those willing to perform non-combat service would be accepted for that; all others would be deferred.

The Senate bill would allow recruiting of 25,000 aliens for five-year Army enlistments. The House bill has no such provision.

Both bills would give the President power to seize and order government operation of any industrial plant or business which failed to give priority to contracts with the armed forces.

The Senate bill has a section which would overhaul the Army and Air Force court martial systems. The House already has approved this in a separate bill.

Both bills would give drafted men the same rights to return to civilian jobs that was provided in the World War II draft law.

Columbia River Falling Slowly

PORTLAND, Ore —(U.P.)— The Columbia river today was several feet below the high crest it hit during its spring floods of the past month.

Government officials, still attempting to estimate the damage caused by the floods, said that their total had reached $136,000,000 and was still climbing as reports came in. The total of casualties stood at 51 dead, 35 missing and 46,316 homeless.

They Like Reading and Gardening, Too

Pastor's Family Avid Picnickers

In the less than a month that the family of Dr and Mrs. W. M. Taylor has been in Mansfield, they already have hunted out the good picnic spots. For the family of the new pastor of the Park avenue Baptist church is an enthusiastic group of picnickers.

"I used to play golf a good bit but that was only something I could do, so now we all go on picnics and enjoy them very much," Dr. Taylor explained.

In Marshall, Mo., where they lived before coming to Mansfield, picnics for friends and just among themselves was a favorite pastime around their backyard fireplace. Lacking a fireplace in their new home at 68 Sherman avenue, they've searched out the picnic spots they expect to use this summer.

LIKE HAMBURGERS

Their favorite picnic food? Hamburgers.

"We always have them for picnics and whenever I'm in doubt what to have I know the children will like hamburgers," Mrs. Taylor says, then adds laughingly: "I imagine I've cooked more hamburgers than any woman in Missouri."

The children are Mary Ann, 14; Bill, 13, and Bobby, 7.

Two other "likes" of the Taylors are reading and gardening.

Even Bobby will have a garden patch this summer. He plans to plant some of the seeds his teacher sent with him when he left Marshall.

"I think our favorite flowers are probably roses," Mrs Taylor said.

Reading is another favorite pastime of the entire family.

"Mary Ann and Bob are beginning to acquire more adult tastes in reading and one of these days we're going to enjoy reading as a family group," Dr. Taylor said.

SINGS AND PLAYS

Mary Ann also is developing a love of music. Her voice has attracted the attention of Mrs. W. J. Hazeltine, choir leader at the church. She also plays both the piano and the violin.

Bill's love of out-doors extends to farms.

"I asked him what camp he would like to attend this summer and he said he'd much rather go on a farm," his mother said. "So he'll probably spend some time at the Campbell home this summer."

Perhaps the Taylor family philosophy best was summed up by Mrs. Taylor:

"I tell my children," she said, "that if they acquire a love of music, books and nature, they'll be well equipped for life."

Lexington to Hear All-Girl Group

Members of the Mansfield All-Girl orchestra will go to Lexington tomorrow at 8 p. m. for a concert at the First Presbyterian church.

Directed by Will Kurtz, the orchestra members will present a program both of sacred and classical numbers. Dale Sanderlin, church organist at Lexington, will give a group of selections as a part of the program.

Following the concert, orchestra members and members of the church who have been received the past year will be honored at a reception in the church parlors.

2 Mansfield Men Stopped In Publinx

Bernie Mathias and Arnold Adams, representing Possum Run in the Ohio Public Links tournament at Toledo, were defeated in first-day matches yesterday

Adams lost a second round match to Army Lieutenant Jack Mann by 8 and 7 after ousting Ray Gozkowski of Toledo 2 and 1 in the first round.

Mathias had trouble with his putter and fell before Joe Marks of Dayton in one extra hole. Both Marks and Mathias shot 78 but the Mansfield lad had six three-put greens among his 18 holes. Marks birdied the 19th to take the match.

Sixteen golfers were to tee off this morning with two rounds of 18 holes to cut the number to four by nightfall. Semi-finals and finals will be played tomorrow.

Defending champion Val Chiaverini of Toledo was still listed as tournament favorite along with Mann, an eight-year Army veteran who is rated as the darkhorse.

Pastor Leaves For Conference

Rev. V. C. Stamets, pastor of the First Evangelical UB church, leaves late Sunday afternoon for Beach City, Ohio, where he will direct for two weeks the senior high school age camp of the East Ohio conference of the church. Rev. Stamets will go in time for a staff conference Sunday night.

FELLOWSHIP TO MEET

The Senior Youth Fellowship group of the First Methodist church will meet at the church at 3 p. m. Sunday then drive to Olivesburg park for a picnic and devotional services.

Bundsman's Capture Caused By Sweetheart's Ex-Husband

MUNICH —(UP)— A Munich bank clerk said today that he had tipped off police that Fritz Kuhn, former head of the German-American bund in the United States, was hiding out with his divorced wife in Bernkastel.

"I did it to prevent more mischief between them," the bank clerk said.

Authorities disclosed Thursday that Kuhn had been captured in the French zone town last Tuesday. He escaped from the Dachau internment camp on Feb. 4.

The former husband identified Kuhn's girl friend as blonde, blue-eyed Hedwig Munz, an old flame and mother of two children.

"Kuhn turned her head by tales of his importance," the husband said.

The clerk, who asked that his name not be used, said he could not forgive Kuhn for wrecking his marriage. He did it, the clerk said, with tall tales of how he bossed nazis in the United States.

"I bear no grudge against my wife," the former husband said. "We parted friends."

He said his wife left Munich in mid-March for Bernkastel to be with Kuhn. She took her children with her.

Library Has Hargrove's First Novel

Other New Books Now Available

"Something's Got To Give," a first novel by Marion Hargrove, is the story of two young couples who become involved in a radio program.

Hargrove uses the same gay approach to disaster that marked his wartime narrative, "See Here, Private Hargrove." He tells how the restless planning of the two wives destroys the pattern of the characters' tranquil lives, at least according to the husbands.

This humorous and satirical novel is one of the 15 new books which will be available Monday at the Mansfield Public Library. Five of the books are fiction, the other 10 non-fiction.

★

PLEASANT MORNING LIGHT by Josephine Lawrence is the story of three young women who accepted the belief that any marriage was better than none. Under social pressure and in sheer desperation each compromised with love to avoid being scorned as single. This is the story of their marriages.

★

THE BENNETT PLACE, by Michael de Capite, is an Ohio story. The central figure is Catherine Bennett, daughter of the first family of Sparta. How her life and her death affected the lives of those who knew her is the story. The book leaves a picture of a town and a period and portraits of several memorable characters.

OTHER FICTION

"There Is a Tide," by Christie.

"Map Of Mistrust," by MacKinnon.

STORY OF PRESIDENTS

This week's new books at the Public Library include two of special interest in a presidential year. PRESIDENTS ON PARADE, by Hirst Milhollen and Milton Kaplan, is a comprehensive pictorial history of the Presidents of the United States from George Washington to Harry Truman. It includes contemporary drawings, cartoons, and photographs depicting the men themselves, their families, campaigns, inaugurations, and other events from political or military careers.

Also on this week's list is TOWARD WORLD PEACE, by Henry Wallace. This is a small book setting forth Wallace's position on most important present-day issues: Price controls, housing, labor, taxes, U. M. T. and United Nations, Palestine and the Marshall plan. It can probably be accepted a prevue of the platform of the new party.

The latest addition to the AMERICAN LAKE SERIES is LAKE OKEECHOBEE, by Alfred and Kathryn Hanna. This Florida lake, next to Lake Michigan in size, feeds the Everglades and Cypress Swamp, but has been almost unknown until recent times. Around its shores war has been waged, land booms have burst, towns have flourished and fallen, bootleggers, politicians and promoters have waxed and waned. This account of its dramatic history is illustrated with about thirty half-tones.

OTHER NON-FICTION

"Anthology Of Irish Verse," by Colum.

"Soviet Literature Today," by Reavy.

"Applied Architectural Acoustics," by Rettinger.

"Postscript To Yesterday," by Morris.

"Since 1900," by Barck and Blake.

"Early American Decoration," by Brazer.

"Speak Up For Democracy," by Bernay's.

Son and Daughter Aid Salvation Army Chiefs

Mr. and Mrs. William A. Jones have arrived at the Salvation Army post here from Beckley, W. Va, to assist the former's parents, Major and Mrs. William Jones in the work of the welfare agency during the summer months.

The son and his wife had been helping the younger Mrs. Jones' parents, Major and Mrs. C. L. Frazier at the Salvation Army post in Beckley.

The younger Jones, a baker by trade, is a veteran of the navy during World War II. He expects to work while here this summer.

In September the younger Joneses plan to leave for New York City, where they will train in the Salvation Army school. Following graduation, they will be appointed to an Army post, "most anywhere," Jones says.

Both are musicians. Jones plays the trombone and his wife, the euphonium. At Beckley, Jones led the band. He hopes with the aid of his father, to form a small band here.

Mrs. Jones has been a secretary to her father at Beckley and will continue in the same capacity here.

Both are graduate corps cadets, having taken the six-month Bible course for young people, which is a part of the Salvation Army program.

61,000 Get Wage Boost

CHICAGO — (INS) — A general wage increase of 11 cents an hour to approximately 61,000 workers was announced today by the International Harvester company.

The increase will be effective in 21 plants of the company upon acceptance by the various unions representing production and maintenance employes.

Commensurate salary increases were announced for approximately 25,000 white collar employes in factory offices, sales operations and the company's general office.

The total cost of the wage and salary hikes was estimated at about 24 million dollars a year.

'Fishers' Club Appears Here

O. W. Zimmerman and the Phi Gamma Fishing club of Cleveland will conduct services at the Mansfield Gospel Center Sunday. The club, comprising a group of young people from Cleveland, will present musical numbers, testimonies, and a Bible message. They call themselves "fishers" of men who seek to interest other young people in religious work.

Zimmerman, president of the club, will speak. Pho Gamma will also be in charge of the Young People's meeting at 6 30 p m.

L. E. Beckley, owner of the Faith and Works Printing company and Bible teacher, will be the guest speaker on Sunday, June 27.

Rev. Mark H. Senter jr., pastor, is on vacation.

Greek Arms Aid Outlined By President

Declares Situation Remains Critical

WASHINGTON —(U.P.)— President Truman reported to Congress Friday that American arms have given the Greek army "great superiority" over the communist-led guerrilla forces.

Reporting on the $400,000,000 Greek-Turkish aid program, Mr. Truman said the Greek armed forces struck "telling blows" against the rebels between Dec. 31, 1947 and March 31—the period covered in his report.

By the end of March, the President reported that the United State. had delivered $71,000,000 in military aid to Greece. This included a "substantial number" of planes, 2,800 vehicles, 75,000 weapons of all types, 7,000 tons of ammunition, and services of 256 American military officers.

The President made it clear, however, that any optimism regarding American successes in Greece must be confined to the military picture. The economic situation, he said, "remains critical." He listed inflation, hoarded capital, support of 517,000 refugees, and generally unsettled conditions as factors retarding Greek economic recovery.

Mr. Truman emphasized that while some of the Americans assisting Greece's military efforts "at times accompany operational units of the Greek forces, they neither participate in combat nor command Greek troops." The government, he said, "has no combat troops in Greece."

"The military situation still is of first importance," the President said. "Armed bands continue to molest the populace and disrupt the nation's efforts at reconstruction. However, the recent success of the Greek national army, improved morale, and formation of defense battalions . . . are expected to improve the situation materially."

This was the third of the President's reports on the Greek-Turkish aid program — which will be extended for at least another year. For the first time, the report included pictures of American equipment at work in both countries.

Regarding Turkey, the President reported that aid to that country was only getting under way. Of an estimated 305,000 tons of assistance, only 30,000 tons had been shipped from this country by the end of March. But May through September shipments were said to anticipate shipments of 40,000 to 50,000 tons a month.

Firm to Honor Employes With 25 Years of Service

Forty-six Mansfield area employes of the Ohio Fuel Gas company who have been with the firm 25 years or more will be honored at a dinner Tuesday night at the Smithville Inn, Smithville, G. K. Schooler, district manager, announced.

One hundred and 37 active members of the Northeastern Quarter Century club will receive watches at the Smithville dinner. Each watch is inscribed with the employe's name and his years of service. Each worker also will be given a service pin.

Maj. Norman Imrie of Columbus will address the club, and department heads will present the watches and service pins. Seventy-one retired employes in the area who are members of the club will attend.

Employes from the Mansfield area who will receive watches and service pins at Smithville are: Pearl E. Adams, Jesse E. Au, William M. Bowen, Floyd D. Carver, Clee S. Cole, Joseph Green, Lee R. AN INDEPENDENT NEWSPAPER

PAGE FOUR MANSFIELD, OHIO, SATURDAY, JUNE 19, 1948

Drive carefully tomorrow—that is if you haven't disposed of the old car and can't afford a new one.

This Congress is probably not as bad as President Truman charges—nor as good as the forthcoming Republican platform will aver.

Cheered by current progress, science now anticipates being able to extend human life to 150 years—thus posing another problem for social security analysts.

Week of Momentous Action Pends

SELDOM has the week end preceding a national political convention been marked by as great show of public interest as is being evidenced in the Republican conclave which is to get underway in Philadelphia on Monday.

Two elements contribute to this situation. First there is the feeling of uncertainty as to the man who will finally attain a majority in the balloting, and second, there is appearance of widespread belief that not only a party nominee but also the next president of the United States will be chosen before the next week end.

At no time in sixteen years could there have been reasonable expectation of electing a Republican president, but the swing of the pendulum is now in that direction and this is being taken into account by delegates to the Philadelphia convention and those who direct party policies.

Unlike the Democrats, who have only President Truman to present, the Republicans have an abundance of material from which to choose, either as avowed aspirants or inactive but "receptive" candidates.

Insofar as Ohio's preference is concerned, it is Senator Robert A. Taft who is the favored contender, with a feeling of confidence that he is well qualified for the presidency by training, experience, sound thinking and dependable honesty. If fortune's wheel turns in his favor at Philadelphia next week people of the United States will have opportunity to place in the White House a man who can be safely entrusted with the heavy responsibilities which will rest upon the president of the United States during the next four crucial years.

Finding Ways to Reduce Waste

THE FEELING of urgency and the necessity to cut all the corners possible in manufacturing processes during the war gave rise to many wasteful ways. Now that time is no longer of the essence, industry is ridding itself of these habits.

A nation-wide campaign is under way which is enlisting employer co-operation. Suggestions are to be judged and awarded prizes, slogans and other forms of publicity are being mapped. One automobile manufacturer has established a salvage store where by-products and damaged goods are sold, with benefit both to seller and to purchaser.

A chocolate manufacturer has reduced the number of broken or damaged candy bars by the installation of more efficient machinery. Scrap iron is being collected efficiently and used to a greater extent, and lumber from incoming crates is turned into covers for outgoing shipments. In some offices, supplies are being saved by closer scrutiny.

This is a fortunate country, with rich but not unlimited resources. Nothing will contribute more to our continued prosperity than a heedful attitude toward waste. The campaign being put on by the large manufacturers might with profit be taken part in by government agencies, stores and homes.

Fame of Mastersingers Spreads

ALTHOUGH the fame of Mansfield's Mastersingers is not yet quite as great as that of the Nuremburg singers, immortalized by Richard Wagner, the local tenors, baritones, and basses are coming right along! They have just accepted an invitation to present an evening concert in the amphitheater at Lakeside Aug. 4. Later in the month they will be heard in two appearances at Lake Chautauqua, N. Y.

Bids to go to these two outstanding religious and cultural resorts speak highly indeed of the musical skill of the 60-voice Mansfield men's choir.

Mansfielders are fortunate not only in having such an organization in their city, but also in being able to hear virtually the same programs that will be presented at Lakeside and Chautauqua, when the Mastersingers give their summer concert here Monday and Tuesday nights at John Simpson auditorium.

Echo of Barnum's Showmanship

A FAMOUS HOAX is recalled by announcement that the Cardiff Giant has now a permanent home in a museum at Cooperstown, N. Y. This was a stone statue, 10 feet 4½ inches tall, dug up near Cardiff in central New York, and later an important part of the exhibits displayed by the famous showman, Phineas T. Barnum. Described as a "petrified man," the Giant was actually a fake, made by one George Hull, who wished to ridicule people who took literally the Biblical statement that there were giants in former days. Fake or not, it was all one to Barnum, for whom the Giant was a great drawing-card.

General Tom Thumb, most noted of the circus midgets, was another Barnum feature: but best known of all was no freak, but the Swedish singer, Jenny Lind, whom Barnum persuaded to tour the United States. These illustrated Barnum's practice of giving real value for the customers' admission fees.

Towns Combine For Economy

TWO MAINE towns, Mapleton and Castle Hill, know how to lighten the load on the taxpayer's back. They have merged their governments as far as the law will permit, having the same town manager, a common town hall and a consolidated school system.

There is no patent on this scheme, which other towns and villages all over the United States might profitably consider. Vested local political interests will be sure to object, and there may be appeals to local prejudice to defeat this common sense measure. If, however, the voters insist, they can get it done.

As Claude Callan views it: "Extravagance will continue so long as foolish rich people think they must have all the luxuries we poor people enjoy."

Among vanishing Americanisms, H. I. Phillips places: "Oh, it's easy to find some restaurant that serves a good meal at a reasonable price."

Now comes the inescapable quip: "Mrs. Eisenhower insists she'd rather have her husband be Dwight than President."

The Call of the Wild.

Raymond Moley's Analysis

No Agreement As To 'Probable Winner'

PORTSMOUTH, N. H. — In this tense political atmosphere at the National Governors' Conference, one concern seems to grip most Republican politicians. They want to get in line next week, in the balloting in Philadelphia, behind the probable winner. In the great game of politics, a man left on base when the game is won is a lost soul.

The governor of one great state, whose preference is still unknown, said, "We mustn't miss the boat this year." Another governor, who holds his delegation in a firm grip, said, "We are going to be ready to move fast when the balloting starts."

Tenseness is in the air now and it will deepen on Sunday and Monday in Philadelphia. In states with favorite sons, questions are being asked by delegates about how long they must go along with their first pledges

In Massachusetts, for example, it is not at all certain that the delegation can be held together even for a first ballot vote for Saltonstall. Former Governor Fuller of that state said here publicly that no consideration for Saltonstall or for Joe Martin, Massachusetts' almost-favorite son, should cause delegates to risk a long series of ballots and a possible smoke-filled room. Delegates, he said, are chosen to nominate a president, and they should proceed to that job as soon as the balloting starts.

* * *

Sizing Up Sentiment

THERE are some 40 governors here, most of them Republicans. The hotel where the conference is held is remote from crowds and other diversions. About all who are present, aside from governors and their immediate attendants, are a number of experienced reporters. It is a good place to size up sentiment.

It is, I believe, fair to state that most of the reporters feel there will be no deadlock next week, that the nomination may come sooner than has been anticipated and that Dewey had decidedly the best chance. Vandenberg is not overlooked, but his stock is declining. Taft is favored by some. In a poll of Republican governors, Dewey received as many votes as all other candidates combined.

A lot more will be known Sunday in Philadelphia, when several big states, including Illinois and Pennsylvania, will caucus.

The southern Democratic governors are having a bit of a show, too. Leadership seems to be turning to the able Governor Beauford H. Jester of Texas. He plans to have a meeting of southern governors before the Democratic convention in July to consider the case of the South versus one Harry S. Truman.

For the first time since the President started things with what opponents call his "civil wrongs programs," an orderly and positive revolt is under way. Jester says that Texas will be regular up to the "November disaster." After that, it will help rebuild the house along lines, we may be sure, which will not conform to the architectural theories of the New Deal.

The Nation Today

Noise Doesn't Nominate

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON — Don't let the convention applause and the big noise kid you.,

You'll hear a lot of it—the wild demonstrations for Whoozis — when the Republicans meet in Philadelphia next week to nominate a man for president.

There'll be 1,094 Republican delegates there and thousands of others who go to rubberneck or cheer.

The candidates for the nomination will stay pretty much out of sight, back in their hotel rooms, hoping for the lightning to strike them.

They'll be doing more than hoping, of course. Their managers will be out trying to rope in enough state delegations to get their man nominated.

But just let the name of one of the hopefuls be mentioned in the convention hall . . .

The delegates pledged to him will try to rip the roof off with their cheers, whistles, applause and maybe a parade around the hall.

None of that means much.

What counts is the work done by the political managers among the state delegations, trying to win them over quietly.

This writer saw an example of how little the noise and cheers mean at the Republican convention at Chicago in 1944.

That year the only real contenders were New York's Governor Dewey and Ohio's Governor Bricker — now a senator.

Both men had rented huge ballrooms on the same floor of the Stevens hotel, only a few hundred yards apart.

* * *

The Way It's Done.

BRICKER'S was ablaze with light, aflame with flowers. Gigantic pictures of the candidate were hung on the wall.

The pictures, showing Bricker in various stages from boy to governor, were there to win friends and influence people.

Bricker himself, white haired and smiling, did his best in person to do what his pictures were trying to do. He stood at the ballroom door, shaking hands with the thousands of delegates and sightseers who poured through.

He kept trying, even though the wise heads at the convention said Dewey already had the nomination sewed up.

Down the hall a bit, Dewey's ballroom looked dim as an old barn.

There may have been a sign over the door saying "Dewey" or "Welcome" or something. Inside there was one picture of Dewey and almost no lighting.

I never saw Dewey there and I never saw more than a handful of people wandering in to look around. There wasn't much to see except a couple of Dewey workers scribbling away at a table in the corner.

After looking at that a couple of days and nights, I went up to Dewey's real headquarters on an upper floor and found one of his most trusted right-hand men there, alone, in his shirt sleeves.

I tried to needle him. I said, "You fellows had better wake up. Bricker is downstairs shaking hands with everybody in Chicago."

The Dewey man laughed.

I said, "Bricker is talking to a lot of people."

"Let him," the Dewey man said. "We've already done our talking —with the people who are going to give us the votes."

And he was right, although Bricker wasn't convinced for a couple days more. Then, for the first time, he went into the convention hall and faced the crowd.

But he only went there to announce he was stepping aside in favor of Dewey.

Yet the crowd screamed and roared for fifteen minutes before he could say a word. If you'd been listening to it over a radio, you'd think they were nominating Bricker.

Then, when they quieted down and Bricker finished his talk, they nominated Dewey.

Same noise. Same whistling. Same parades.

More About Time.

Editor News-Journal:

I believe the time change could be made with little, if any, opposition if made at the right time and general throughout the country.

Many years ago Congress, at the request of the railroads, divided the country into four time belts, Eastern, Central, Mountain and Pacific corresponding to our 60 degrees of longitude. This proved very satisfacory, eliminating continuous sun time change.

A few years ago, I believe it was President Roosevelt who advocated stepping up the clocks in February. This was undoubtedly too early and met with an avalanche of popular disapproval.

Then the Ohio general assembly undertook to correct the evil and after a winter's debate only added horror to dread by making it a local issue.

Time is a national problem and should necessarily be dealt with accordingly.

Tampering by local authorities only increases the dilemma in an atmosphere already perplexing.

Moreover, placing the issue on the November ballot in Mansfield this fall is not the solution.

Summary of Week's Happenings

Philadelphia In Role of Political Mecca

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

FOR the next month all eyes will be on Philadelphia. In the cradle of American liberty where the Constitution was born, the nation's two major political parties will convene to draft their platforms and choose their candidates for President. Henry Wallace's Third Party will meet July 23 in the same huge, flag-draped Convention Hall, close beside the Schuylkill river.

As never before, the whole world will be watching the preliminaries to an American election. The United States in 1848 is a colossus whose policies, domestic and foreign, vitality affect every nation, large or small.

Before the Curtain Rises.

The Republican convention opens Monday with 1,094 delegates, drawn from every state, the District of Columbia, territories and possessions. The Democrats will ens Monday with 1,094 delegates,

Developments this week in Congress had an important bearing on the Republican convention and the identity of the man it will choose to be its nominee for President.

Arrayed against each other were two GOP presidential dark horses: Sen. Arthur Vandenburg and House Speaker Joseph W. Martin, jr. The issue was whether to put up all or part of the 5.3 billion dollars authorized for the European Recovery Program last spring.

Sen. Vandenberg, head of the GOP internationalist faction, went all out for the full appropriation. Speaker Martin, leader of the conservative, economy-minded wing, opposed it. Outcome of their clash presented the first real clue as to the type of candidate and platform the convention might choose: one dedicated to internationalism or one inclined toward a return to traditional isolationism.

Expect Five-Day Session.

Even though the convention does not open until Monday, activity has been going on all week.

Party spokesmen look for a five-day convention, but with quite a few ballots before the presidential ticket is named.

More than a dozen candidates will receive first-ballot support. After that, it's anybody's guess.

A majority of 548 is needed for the nomination. Managers of Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York, Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio, and Harold E. Stassen of Minnesota claim each will get upwards of 300 votes on the first ballot.

Taft and Dewey leaders say their man will win on an early ballot. Stassen predicts he will get the nomination on the ninth ballot. Obviously, they can't all be right.

Sen. Vandenberg and Speaker Martin rate high in spectulation over a compromise choice if the major contenders fall by the wayside. Gov. Earl Warren of California is regarded as a strong contender if there is a deadlock.

At Home

Income Going Up.

Some 69 per cent of America's 42,000,000 families had an income of $2,000 or more last year, the Federal Reserve Board reported this week on the basis of a sample survey.

In the mid-1930's, fewer than 6,600,000 families had incomes at that level—but a dollar bought more then.

For 21 out of each 100 families in the nation, income was above $5,000 last year, with eight families of this group getting over $7,500 a year.

Not everyone was in the chips, however. Of each 100 families, 13 had incomes under $1,000 and another 18 got between $1,000 and $2,000.

The "middle income" of the nation's 42,000,000 families was $2,920 in 1947, up $320 from the year before.

* * *

New Cancer Weapon.

Scientists will try next year to cure cancer with a new experimental weapon—the betatron.

The betatron is a machine that whirls negatively-charged electrons to high speeds in much the same manner that a cyclotron speeds up protons. A 20-million volt betratron will be installed at the University of Illinois College of Medicine.

First use of the machine in medical research will be to treat deep-seated cancers with X-rays of up to 20 million volts energy. X-rays now used in hospitals use energies of only 200,000 to 2,000,000 volts.

Because of tests and developmental work, no patients will be treated until 1949.

Outmoded Push Buttons.

The squeal old radios used to make when your hand got too close to a dial now has been harnessed to signal the elevator.

The new electronic substitute for push buttons, devised by Otis Elevator company engineers, makes use of static electricity.

When your finger touches a round, plastic plate, located like a push button, a tiny vacuum tube behind it goes to work. The tube signals the elevator and sets its controls so that the car stops at your floor.

* * *

Soldier Linguists.

American troops should know foreign languages better in any future war than in the past, according to Gen. Jacob L. Devers.

The chief of the Army Field Forces declares that in World War II inability of American troops to talk with foreign allies led to frequent misunderstandings, friction and delay.

Abroad

Struggle Continues.

The east-west tug of peace for control of Europe, known variously as the "cold war" and the "peace offensive," continues.

Russia this week flexed her muscles by temporarily barring food and coal shipments through her zone to western nationals in Berlin, the four-power capital. The British said the Russians did not stop whole trains but cut out freight cars they considered defective.

Three border transit points between the Soviet and British zones were closed. The big autobahn bridge over the Elbe, the west's only motor route to Berlin, was closed for repairs.

At Lake Success, Russia again tried vainly to include Soviet observers on the Palestine truce team and to shift the American-held Pacific islands from jurisdiction of the UN Trusteeship Council to the Security Council, where the veto power applies.

In Palestine, where Count Folke Bernadotte arranged the four-weeks truce, a tense uneasy peace settled over the Holy Land. Both Jews and Arabs charged the other with violations.

Without Opposition.

In 1932, a carpenter ran for the presidency of Czechoslovakia against Thomas G. Masaryk, father of the republic. He got only a handful of votes.

This week, Klement Gottwald, the carpenter, tried again. No candidate opposed him and he was elected by acclamation.

In between the first and second attempts were 16 years and a career for Gottwald as the foremost Czech communist. That experience paid off.

Gottwald has been a communist for decades and spent the war years in Moscow. He had been premier since July 3, 1946, and engineered the February coup by which communists took over full control of the government.

As the nation's third president, Gottwald succeeds Eduard Bennes, who resigned a week ago rather than sign the new constitution drafted by the communists.

The new parliament, which has 214 communists among its 300 members, made Gottwald the only candidate, then elected him by a voice vote. Anton Zapotocky, trade union leader who had been deputy premier, succeeded Gottwald as premier.

In Short

Intervened: By the federal government, in suspended coal talks between John L. Lewis and the mine operators.

Bowed: Seven seamen's unions, to court injunctions, banning for at least 10 days, a nationwide maritime strike.

Denied: By the Supreme Court, review of contempt of Congress convictions of 11 members of the Joint Anti-Fascist Refugee committee for refusing to turn over records to the House committee on unamerican activities.

Quotes

Dwight D. Eisenhower: "Democracy as we know it is facing its decade, probably its quarter century of greatest trial."

Winston Churchill: "How can Socialist ministers brag of nationalization of industry and deride the system of free enterprise and capitalism which makes America great and wealthy . . . and at the same time eagerly seek the aid which has hitherto been so generously granted across the Atlantic?"

Washington Calling

Vandenberg's Greatness

By MARQUIS CHILDS

THE MASSIVE achievement of Senator Arthur H. Vandenberg in the 80th Congress is likely to loom even larger with the passage of time. With his able staff on the foreign relations committee he has led his party, sometimes balky and surly, from one historic milestone to another.

On the record he deserves the highest honor the GOP can offer. But as Vandenberg has often pointed out, that honor has never gone to the man who waits to be drafted.

While he has consistently been the first choice of millions of voters in the event of a deadlock at Philadelphia, he has just as consistently refused to help in any way to gain the nomination.

Ardent admirers and friends have pleaded with him, in vain, to be allowed to take the steps necessary to crystallize the vast latent support in the party and in the country.

Unless such steps are taken, with floor managers ready to seize the strategic opportunity, Vandenberg's admirers fear the convention may pass him by. Enthusiastic friends are working, but without co-ordination.

Two factors are back of Vandenberg's reluctance. One is a kind of pride that restrains him from seeking the office and being repaid with a rebuff.

* * *

THE OTHER, and far more important, reason, is his genuine hesitation before the crushing burden of the presidency. This has little to do with his health, which he and his doctors believe to be good.

Nevertheless he is 64 years old. Moving into the White House, he would break the rhythm of his Senate life, and he cherishes that rhythm.

As president, he would be faced with complicated administrative decisions. He would be taking on duties alien and strange because of his long concentration on foreign affairs.

This is why some who want Vandenberg have suggested the possibility of Gov. Thomas E. Dewey accepting the vice-presidential nomination. As vice president, Dewey would take broad administrative responsibility. There seems little likelihood of this outcome at Philadelphia, however.

Still another element is involved in Vandenberg's hesitation. It is his fear of how far the narrow obstructionists in his own party would go in thwarting him if he were in the White House.

They will be back in January—the Tabers, the Martins, the Hallecks—with the expected Republican sweep, and their power will be greater than ever.

They are jealous of Vandenberg, deeply resentful of his prestige and influence. Certain of his fellow Republicans in the Senate already have gone beyond common decency in spreading vicious slanders about the man who towers so far above them.

Ever since the end of war, both at home and abroad, Vandenberg has spoken for stability and peace through the United Nations. Again and again, his has been the voice of leadership.

Skeptics point to the newness of his conversion from old-fashioned isolationism. But millions underwent the same conversion in the ordeal of a global war. That may be why today they have such a fellow feeling for a leader with the courage and the ability to strike out in a new direction.

A committee of Congress has found that both the state department and the radio folks are to blame for that pretty terrible handling of the Voice of America. If you ask me, the radio station would have been much more alert if it had been selling a bubble gum.

"In spite of its disclaimers, the state department did have a responsibility to supervise and check," says the committee. Of course it did. The whole thing cost the taxpayers plenty of money and was handled as if Uncle Sam was supposed to broadcast the voice of Mickey Finn instead of the Voice of America.

Timely Editorial

Practically Forever

The North American Newspaper Alliance reports that scientists of the United States Bureau of Standards have progressed in inventing an "atomic watch" to the point at which the correction of error yet to be overcome amounts to 1/1,000,000,000th of a second.

It's a watch that will never run down, the story is, and will keep the same time for 1,000,000 years.

When such a watch can be had and what it will look like is not revealed. Harnessed vibrations in molecules of gas, the gas confined in a small tube, keep it going.

In this and in many ways the scientists are giving us glimpses into a future in which everyday life will be very different from today's. — Detroit News.

Howard Hughes Mocks Senator Despite His Own Poor Record

NEW YORK—Howard Hughes, the moving picture magnate who produced no airplanes for $40 millions of public money, has made public a letter to Senator Ralph O. Brewster, of Maine, offering him $300 a week to start as an actor. You are no amateur, Hughes wrote. "Your ability as an actor has been well demonstrated. Also, you are the perfect type for some parts I have in mind."

We here have a senator publicly mocked in his office of investigator of outrageous corruption in the war production program by a man who could not deny that he had conspired with a professional barfly to compromise agents of the government and seduce them from propriety.

Hughes finds himself singularly free of the restraints which affect the course of men of fastidious morals and ethics. He is not embarrassed by disclosures which would intimidate a more sensitive citizen.

In the early part of 1947, Hughes saw an investigation coming. He had spent money to hire women to act as social companions of procurement agents and for booze and luxurious meals and had charged this expense to the ultimate taxpayer as part of the cost of the planes which he did not produce for the $40 millions.

★

He had spent about $4,000 on the wedding expenses and on extravagant personal entertainment of Elliott Roosevelt, then ranked as a colonel, in expensive hotels and night clubs of Hollywood and New York. There was testimony, among the disclosures, that Hughes's social-traffic manager, Johnny Meyer, gave a $20 bill to Faye Emerson, who was to become the third Mrs. Elliott Roosevelt, and a batch of nylon stockings. Nylons were rarer than $20 bills at the time and were regarded as a persuasive gift in the quest of helpful influence in the war contract business.

Anticipating disclosure, Hughes hired Carl Byoir and Associates, the New York and Washington public relations and propaganda firm, to see him through. They did well by him. Hughes was enabled to appear to turn the tables on Senator Brewster and to make Brewster seem to be a guilty fellow, although the record does not justify this impression.

Actually, here was a defendant who admitted that he was what he was, staking his unsupported word in a charge that Brewster offered to abandon the investigation if Hughes would abandon his own planes for an overseas passenger air line. ... ...

Brewster and others believed that the United States would best serve American interests by recognizing and supporting only one American overseas line.

Pan-American was our big overseas pioneer and Brewster thought Pan-American should carry on as a favored agent. He may have been imposed upon by officials of Pan-American with whom he had become friendly. It appeared that he did accept personal hospitality from one of them, although at no cost which could be dignified by the taint of bribe.

Urges Farm Residents To Ballot

Judge Talks At Grange Anniversary Program

"No matter how the world swings, we as the grass root population can always be counted on to say when we've had enough. So let the farm men and women exercise their right to vote."

That was the admonition given to 180 Madison Grange members and their guests at Lucas school last night by Judge Robert Putman of Millersburg, common pleas judge and farmer.

"The farm population of the country is the balance wheel which keeps things in America on an even keel," he declared.

Judge Putman spoke during the program which followed a covered dish supper at 6 p. m. The occasion was the diamond jubilee celebration of Richland county's oldest grange.

Judge Putman spoke to members of modern farm methods, which he strongly approves and which he uses on his old home farm in Knox county, one which has been in the family since 1855.

He was introduced by Mrs. Harold Baer, who acted as toastmistress in the absence of Richard Fisher. Mrs. Baer also presented Perry T. Miller, master of Columbian Grange in Lexington; Fred Dill, master of Jefferson Grange, Bellville; Mr. and Mrs. Mel Paste of Jefferson Grange who have been members for 58 and 60 years respectively; Harry E. Stroup of Shelby Pomona Grange master, and Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Mellick, Pomona Grange deputies.

Invocation was given by Ralph Darling and a reading by Mrs. Elda Jones at the beginning of the program. A history in pantomime of the grange and a reproduction of the first meeting 75 years ago was given by 17 present members, representing the first group.

William McClelland, Madison Grange master, presented a gold sheaf for 50 years of membership to Willard Culler. Willard C. Milligan was unable to be present to receive his 50-year award. Gifts were also given to Mrs. Laura McFarland and Mr. and Mrs. Newell Smith, who had previously won their half century gold sheafs.

During the dinner hour, there was guitar and vocal music by George H. Audenschild. Following the program the floor was cleared and members and guests danced to the music of the Buckeye Ramblers.

County OK's Road Claims

Richland county commissioners yesterday granted $10,237 to five property owners as compensation in the relocation of State Route 13 around the Mansfield airport.

Awards were to C. F. Brubach, for $3,584; R. F. Estep, $1,602; Arthur Krueger, $2,451; John G. Hoff, $1,400, and Roy H. Ferguson, $1,200.

The awards were made following a hearing Friday in the commissioners' office. All of the property owners filed intentions to appeal the decisions.

John W. Selby, chairman of the board, said that appeals would be heard in common pleas court unless settlement could be reached through negotiations.

Governor Intervenes

Schedules Hearing For OSR Fugitive

The governor of Maryland has intervened in the case of a 32-year-old Cumberland, Md., father of four who escaped from the Grafton honor farm of the Ohio State Reformatory in 1936 and is now fighting extradition.

Harland G. Harmon, who was serving one to twenty years for auto theft, walked away from the Grafton farm on Aug. 15, 1936, after having served a little more than a year of his sentence.

He was arrested on June 2 at the request of West Virginia authorities in connection with motor vehicle law violation. Supt. Arthur L. Glattke of OSR reported that the state was now seeking his return. If extradited, Harmon would face at least another year in prison.

Gov. Lane of Maryland has ordered Harmon to appear at the attorney-general's office in Annapolis on Tuesday for a hearing. Harmon's attorney, Harold E. Naughton, said the governor ordered the new hearing, quoting the governor as saying "the papers had been signed without a thorough investigation."

Now an operator of a small grocery store, Harmon was arrested in 1943 on a motor vehicle charge. The Associated Press reported that at that time the Ohio authorities did not want him returned.

Supt. Glattke explained that "traveling conditions in 1943 were difficult because of the war, and the OSR couldn't send a man to pick up Harmon. We asked him to return of his own volition."

Bromfield To Report On Convention

Author-Farmer Louis Bromfield, whose Sunday column is widely used by newspapers, is going to report on the Republican national convention next week for the International News Service.

Bromfield, who will be among at least four Richland countians expected to attend the convention, will leave tonight for Philadelphia.

C. F. Routzahn, president and treasurer of the R. B. Maxwell store, will attend the sessions while Harry Hawley, of Shelby, administrative assistant in the state liquor department, said that he had not decided whether he would attend.

Prosecutor Theodore Lutz said today he and Mrs. Lutz were planning to spend a part of their vacation with friends in Philadelphia next week and that he hoped to attend a part of the convention.

Rites Set for Miss Armstrong

Funeral services for Miss Blanche Armstrong who died yesterday at Mansfield General hospital will be held at the Jones Memorial Monday at 2 p. m., in charge of Dr. Harold E. Andrews of Ashland. Friends may call at the funeral home. Burial will be in the Hayesville cemetery.

Miss Armstrong was visiting her sister, Mrs. Earl Paxton of 21 Parkwood boulevard, at the time of her death. She had resided in Ashland for the past 30 years. She was closely associated with the First Presbyterian church of Ashland and was a member of the church societies. She was also a member of Sarah Copus chapter of the DAR.

Surviving, besides the sister whom she was visiting, are five other sisters, Mrs. J. L. Porter of Lawton, Okla.; Miss Anne Armstrong of Chicago; Mrs. James D. Robertson jr., of Buffalo, N. Y.; Mrs. Edward Havlicek of Cleveland Heights; Mrs. Richard Vollbrecht of Oakland, Calif.; two brothers, William E. Armstrong of Chicago, and D. D. Armstrong of Indianapolis, and a number of nieces and nephews.

1,200 Masons Picnic; Porter Isn't There

Mansfield's Masons, 1,200 of them, ate and played at South Park last night but the man who has had most to do with their annual picnics wasn't among them.

Arlis Porter, secretary of the Masonic Mystic club, was home, ill with the flu. It was the first picnic he had missed in the more than 35 years Masons have gathered for an evening of outdoor fun and fellowship. He went to the Masonic Temple for a brief time to check on final arrangements but he didn't go to the park.

That first picnic was a far cry from the one held last night. Masons crawled out of bed soon after midnight. Dozens of them gathered at 3 a. m. and traveled by horse-drawn van to Savannah lake for an all-day outing, Porter recalled.

In contrast, it was 5 p. m. when the wearers of the square and compass started to gather yesterday in South park. By 5:30 p. m., two blocks-long lines had formed along the driveway leading from the pavilion.

WAIT PATIENTLY

Patiently they waited, standing first on one foot, then on the other, chatting amiably about politics or baseball and speculating on whether or not this picnic would go off without the heavy showers that in recent years have marred the outing.

There was no rain last night as at 5:50 p. m., Chairman Russell McCullough gave the signal to start serving. Three long lines had formed by then and for more than an hour, the committee served out food and drink.

Walter Burrier, Masonic Temple custodian who pinch-hit for Porter in arranging some of the details, gave today some statistics that indicated the enormity of the feeding task.

200 POUNDS OF BEANS

Those 1,200 men, he said, came near to exhausting the supplies, that included five and one-half bushels of potatoes, 40 dozen eggs, 25 bushels of celery and one-half bushel of onions that went into the nine two-foot by 18-inch pans of salad; 200 pounds of dried beans that became by picnic time 10 big pans of baked beans; 30 gallons of cottage cheese, 600 bottles of pop, 400 bottles of chocolate milk, 60 gallons of coffee, 12 gallons of pickles, 160 pounds of sliced meats, 90 pounds of sliced cheese and 130 loaves of bread.

Before and after the meal, men gathered in groups to play horseshoes, softball and cards. Many still were struggling to make "four-spade" bids as the settling sun robbed the heavily-wooded park of daylight.

Reports $250 Theft

James A. Fisher, Creamer hotel, reported to police yesterday afternoon that $250 in cash was taken from a billfold in his trousers pocket while he was asleep. Fisher said that he retired at about 1 a. m. yesterday and that he discovered the loss when he awoke at 8:45 a. m.

Ackerman Rites Set

Funeral services for Charles L. Ackerman, 75, native of Mansfield, who died in Lima Thursday, will be held Monday at 10:30 a. m. at the late residence, 554 West Market street, Lima.

Mr. Ackerman was the uncle of Phillip Wappner, of the Wappner funeral home and William A. Springer, secretary-treasurer of the Ohio Brass company.

He died at his home following an illness of three weeks. Born in Mansfield, the son of the late Michael and Margaret Ackerman, the Lima business man lived in Mansfield, where he was associated with his father in the hotel and restaurant business, until 1893. At that time he moved to Lima and during the intervening years was affiliated with various Lima business firms. At the time of his death he was district sales representative for Superior Foods, Inc., of Toledo.

He was a member of the St. Luke's Evangelical Lutheran church where he had served as trustee for many years; the Lima Elks, and past worthy president of the Lima Eagles. He had at one time been a director of the First Federal Savings and Loan association.

Mr. Ackerman is survived by his wife, Catherine Ziegler Ackerman, whom he married in 1900; one daughter, Miss Margaret Ackerman, and one sister, Mrs. Herman A. Sens of Rochester, N. Y.

Funeral arrangements are in charge of the Cantwell funeral home in Lima.

OFF TO GAME—

Ninety-three boys from the YMCA left this morning in 17 cars for Cleveland where they will see the ball game between the Indians and the Philadelphia Athletics. Each boy took a lunch so that no time would be lost in getting to Cleveland Stadium. The trip was under the supervision of John Fike, assisted by Ronald Watkins, both of the 'Y' staff. The ball game project is a part of the 'Y' summer fun program which will provide "something every day for every boy," according to Maurice W. Taylor, 'Y' executive secretary.

Mrs. Zeller Dies At 80

Mrs. Julia Zeller, 80, of 733 Olivesburg road, widow of Charles Zeller, died this morning at People's hospital after a week's illness.

Born in Richland county, Nov. 19, 1867, Mrs. Zeller spent her entire life in this vicinity. She was a member of the First Christian church and the Pocahontas and Companion society.

Surviving are one son, Willis F. Zeller of Tiffin; two grandchildren, G. W. Zeller and Mrs. Everett Bemiller of Mansfield; two great-grandchildren; three sisters, Mrs. Mary Pugh of Mansfield, Mrs. John Logan of Lakeland, Fla., and Mrs. Lesley Palmer of Altoona, Pa., and one brother, Fred Frietchen of Grand Haven, Mich.

The body is at the Wappner funeral home where services will be held Monday at 3 p. m. in charge of Rev. Ben F. Hagelbarger. Burial will be in the Mansfield cemetery. Members of the Pocahontas lodge will take part in the services at the cemetery.

Protests Bring City Reply

Ritter's Run Obstacles Cited

City spokesmen today threw cold water on a proposal to tile Ritter's Run to eliminate the pollution evil.

Tiling on a large enough scale to accomplish the objective would be too costly now, Street Supt. E. W. Davis said.

The city has received protests from residents along the street in the southwest section of the city about the foul odor coming from the creek as the result of dumping of trash and garbage in the stream.

Davis explained that the tile proposal faces several obstacles.

"In the first place," he said, "it would not be practical to tile portions of the creek. Either the whole creek must be tiled or none of it."

He pointed out that the expense involved in such an undertaking would run into the hundreds of thousands of dollars.

NOT AUTHORIZED TO ACT

Even if the city had the money to do the job, it does not have the legal authority, Davis explained. Ritter's Run empties into the Rocky Fork which flows into the Muskingum river is part of the Muskingum conservancy district. Authorities who control the district are the only ones empowered to undertake any construction in connection with the stream, Davis said.

"Merely to dredge the stream without giving it an outlet would be useless. The dredging, like the tile proposal, would run into many thousands of dollars," he added.

Robert Paul, 137 Ohio street, told city and county officials in a letter that he considered the dredging operations suggested by the city as impractical.

"Your suggestion of dredging the run may be all right in some places, but due to the high banks on one side of the run it is out of the question," Paul said. "The contractor who built these houses dredged a portion of it. Since then we have had one landslide after another, causing trees to slide in the creek and causing it to dam up. We have lost about 10 feet of property as Ritter's Run goes through the center of our land.

TREES BLOCK STREAM

"You also stated that the city keeps the creek clear of fallen trees and branches. If this is done, it is in some other section of the creek. Only one log has been removed from the creek since we have lived in this section. There are two more trees in the stream now and they have been there for the past two years."

As for the presence of wash water in the stream, as mentioned in Paul's letter, Sanitary Engineer B. V. BeVier said this comes from storm sewer connections from basements.

Checking all the sewer connections would involve a huge project since it would be necessary to dig up most of the lines to check on them, BeVier said.

City officials said it should be a matter of pride for Mansfield residents to try to keep the stream clean and protect the health of others.

Kiss-Stealer Faces Court

A 14-year-old vegetable salesman from Shelby who wanted a kiss from a 12-year-old girl has been ordered to appear in juvenile court Wednesday to answer a charge of delinquency.

The incident occurred yesterday afternoon when the boy allegedly forced his way into a Vale avenue home where the girl was minding two small children, followed the frightened girl upstairs, and tried to steal a kiss. He fled when she screamed.

He was seized a short time later by a neighbor and turned over to the police. He was released pending the hearing.

Mayor Insists Crestline Is No 'Whistle-Stop'

CRESTLINE—Crestline's mayor A. P. Soner insisted today that this city is no "whistle-stop" and cited whistling trains—scores of them—to support his view.

He joined mayors of Los Angeles, Gary, Ind., and other cities in comment, at the urging of chuckling Democrats, on Senator Taft's assertion in a Philadelphia speech that President Truman shouldn't go around the country "black-guarding congress at every whistle-stop."

"Forty-two passenger trains make regular scheduled stops here daily," Mayor Soner, chief executive of this city of around 5,000 population, informed the Democratic national committee. "Suggest that Senator Taft consult timetables.'

The Democrats wired Crestline and 35 other places across the country where Mr. Truman had spoken on his "non-political" rail tour. The question: Was it nice of the senator to call you a whistle-stop? (Taft didn't mention any particular communities).

"Characteristically, Senator Taft is confused," replied Laramie.

"Very poor taste," said Gary.

"Our whistles never stop blowing," said Mayor Earl L. McNutt of Eugene, Ore.

As for Mayor Fletcher Brown of Los Angeles:

"The term hardly applies," he said, but:

"Anyone who could have been in Los Angeles last Monday—a perfect day in June with southern California sunshine and blue skies—and witnessed nearly 1,000,000 good American citizens lining the streets to welcome their president, would have both whistled and stopped."

The Democrats summed it up: 73 per cent of those replying disapproved of Taft's remark, of which 7 per cent said he couldn't have been referring to their fair city. And 27 per cent simply asked for more details.

1,500 Enjoy Barn Dance

Author Presents Cup to Winners

Close to 1,500 people; the largest crowd on record, attended the annual barn dance last night at Malabar farm. Dancers brought their own sandwiches but drinks were supplied by Author Louis Bromfield to make the affair a gala one for all.

Bromfield presented a gold loving cup to Betty Pugh and Duane Berry. The cup was inscribed "To the best square dancing couple at Malabar Barn dance, 1948."

He also presented an autographed copy of his latest book, "Malabar Farm," to four couples, winners of sets in the dancing.

They are: Imogene Fox and Kenneth Barr, Donna Pugh and Francis Baker, Gail Kirk and Marilyn Strouse, and Barry Cowen and Ruth Toms.

German Band Dispels Gloom Of 382 Drenched Shelbyites

SHELBY — A cross section of the City of Shelby was represented when the Junior Chamber of Commerce' special "Shelby day with the Indians" train pulled out of the New York Central station at 5:30 last night.

Farmers, laborers, merchants, students, city officials, helped make up the crowd of 382.

Suddenly the blaring of musical instruments signaled the entrance of the German band. Made up of members of the American Legion band dressed in garish costumes and playing German tunes in off keys, the band brought forth uproarius laughter as it passed through each of the eight cars making up the special.

What started as an exceptionally good game suddenly turned into a nightmare as intermittent rain fell and the umpire stopped and started the game time and again. Field caretakers dashed in and out putting on and pulling off the diamonds' protective cover. The crowd ran in and out of the shelter of the grandstand.

As a result, it was a drenched and tired group that dragged aboard the returning train at 12:15 a. m. Many had just settled down for a nap when they were startled by a wild shriek, weird caterwalling, all types of unearthly sounds.

Jacque Reynolds, Reno Mohn, Kenny Hagerman, Tom Fogle and Norman Pugh, members of the most unusual German band this or any other crowd had ever seen, again burst through the cars. Dancing, singing, playing music with their instruments taken apart, they soon drove away all thoughts of slumber.

It was an even more tired, but happy crowd that found its way home in Shelby.

Ohio Blocks Stock Sales

COLUMBUS —(U.P.)— State Securities Chief James F. Merkel said Friday that shares in the Playboy Motor Car corporation, Buffalo, would not be approved for sale in Ohio under present conditions.

"The public is being asked to contribute $20,000,000 for 80 per cent in the company while promoters are asked to give $50,000 for a 20 per cent interest," he said.

"The company declined to ask for registration after initial conferences indicated the deal would have to be improved to give the public better odds than 100 to 1," he added.

Road Finance Plan Accepted

J. Harry McGregor, Republican congressmen from the 17th Ohio district, today announced his amendment to the highway act, making federal funds available for county and township roads, had been included in the report of house and senate conferees.

McGregor asserted the amendment would aid the farm-to-market program greatly.

SECRETARY RESIGNS

ATHENS —(U.P.)— George C. Parks, business manager and secretary of the board of trustees of Ohio university, will retire Sept. 1 after nearly 40 years service with the university, President John C. Baker announced today.

NOTICE

Slipping Indians Lose Marathon, 5 to 4

Corum's Column

By BILL CORUM

NEW YORK—(INS)—Joe Louis looks to me as if he would be ready for Joe Walcott next Wednesday night. Which doesn't mean that he will beat "Jersey Joe." That's another matter.

But whether or not the champion is going to be ready for Walcott, he was ready for Freddy of a recent morning. Freddy is a big and good natured fellow in Joe's entourage who goes on the road with him.

It seems that Freddy has been just chock full of wonderful suggestions about ways and means the bomber might employ to beat Walcott.

The other morning Freddy was broadcasting the same tune as they jogged along, when the champ suddenly stopped in his tracks and said:

"Look, Freddy, you ain't going to beat that man talking out here in the country. I'm going to win the fight, but I'll have to do it in the ring. If you gotta talk while you walk, talk about something else."

★

LOUIS SCOFFED the other day when Don Dunphy mentioned that "Jersey Joe" is developing a secret punch.

"We both too old for that sort of foolishness," said the bomber. "Both been fighting too long to start talking 'bout secret punches."

Yet, I do think it may be true that Louis himself has been holding one punch, for Wednesday's engagement.

It seemed to me that Wendell Smith, sports editor of the Pittsburgh Courier, best summed up all the talk about Louis being a target for a right hand.

"Joe always was easy to hit with a right, wasn't he?" asks Smith, and then follows with this question:

"If Jack Blackburn couldn't teach him to defend against right hands when he was faster and twenty, who's going to teach him now that he's slower and thirty-four?"

★

EDITOR SAM DAY cabled Author Ernest Hemingway in Havana asking him to cover the fight.

Ernest cabled back that he would be delighted but had promised to take his boys on a vacation in the Bahamas. Also that he preferred to remember Louis as he was against Max Baer.

If Sam had offered Ernest a match with the winner, he might very well have landed him.

Hemingway may not have been the greatest boxer the writer ever saw, but he'll say this much for him—he sure liked to try.

Tribe Hill Men Issue '9 Wa"s

CLEVELAND — (AP) — Cleveland's Indians, teetering atop the American league with a one-game margin, try to stop the second place Philadelphia Athletics today with Bob Muncrief.

With their homecoming from a triumphant eastern tour now souring badly to the tune of five straight losses, the Indians had planned to use ace Bob Lemon. But in the early morning hours when last night's game ended 5-4 in favor of the Athletics, Manager Lou Boudreau changed his mind and decided to send in Muncrief.

Lemon had the bad fortune to lose the latest game in less than an inning's work.

WALKS TOO MANY

It was in the seventh inning, after a third rainstorm had held up play, and Boudreau had called him in to protect a 4-3 advantage. He got rid of the first man, Catcher Buddy Rosar, by striking him out. Then he walked Pete Suder. Herman Franks, pinch hitting for Pitcher Chuck Harris, shot a single into center.

After fanning Eddie Joost, Lemon proceeded to lose the game. He walked Ray Coleman, Sam Chapman and Rudy York, and the tying and winning runs walked across the plate.

Boudreau's other pitchers—Gene Bearden, Don Black, Russ Christopher and Ed Klieman—combined with Lemon to allow only three hits, but their walks added to 10.

Dale Mitchell and Joe Gordon hit home runs for the Tribe while Sam Chapman smacked one for Philadelphia.

Patton Meets Paul Bienz In Feature Race

MINNEAPOLIS — (AP) — Paul Bienz of Tulane university tries his sprinting abilities against speedy Mel Patton of Southern California today.

The two race in the National Collegiate Athletic association's 27th annual event with a place in final tryouts for this country's Olympics team as an added incentive.

Patton appeared to have the edge on the basis of qualifying times yesterday. The Southern Californian did the 100 meters in 10.6 seconds and the 200 meters in 21.3 seconds. Bienz was second in his qualifying heat in the 100 meters, figuring he did it "in about 10.9 seconds" and was four seconds slower in the 200 meters.

One NCAA record was bettered yesterday. That was by Clyde (Smackover) Scott of Arkansas in the 110-meter high hurdles. He clipped one-tenth of a second from the 14.1 seconds set by Forrest (Spec) Towns of Georgia in 1936.

Patton's qualifying in two events gave Southern California six places in the finals and set up his school as almost a certain winner of the NCAA title. Minnesota also copped six qualifying posts. Ohio State, Illinois, Stanford and Texas placed four men each in the finals.

Boudreau Leads All-Star Ballot; Stan Musial 2nd

CHICAGO — (INS) — Manager-shortstop Lou Boudreau of the Cleveland Indians today hung on to his position as high man in the all-star baseball poll.

Boudreau, named on 7,218 of the 20,093 lineups tabulated to date, is 164 votes ahead of Outfielder Stan Musial of the St. Louis Cardinals.

Musial with a total of 7,054 votes edged ahead of Boston's Ted Williams, early 1948 leader. In fourth place is 1947 high-man Joe DiMaggio, slugging New York Yankee centerfielder.

The top nine men in each league in the nationwide newspaper, radio and magazine poll will form the starting lineups of the all-star game at St. Louis on July 13.

Sport Briefs

Changes Clubs

FREMONT — (UP) — Jim Driftmyer, Fremont, was to report today at the Cleveland Indian farm club at Green Bay, Wis. Driftmyer, a pitcher, was originally scheduled to report to Batavia, N. Y., but his contract was transferred.

★

Joes Take Off

NEW YORK—(UP)—Neither Joe Louis nor Jersey Joe Walcott worked out yesterday but both box today and tomorrow. For Walcott tomorrow's drill will be the last but Louis plans to go at it again Monday. They meet Wednesday.

Sign Miami Guard

AKRON — (AP) — Robert (Jake) Spellman, Miami university guard whose extra-point place kick was the winning margin over Texas Tech in the Sun Bowl game last New Year's day, has been named assistant to football Coach Don Greenwood at near-by Cuyahoga Falls high school.

★

To Match Strides

SAN MATEO, Cal.—(AP)—Jesse Owens, co-holder of the world 100-yard dash record of 9.4 seconds, matches strides with a pacer, The Ocean, in a special century run at the Bay Meadows harness races today.

Gorman-Rupp Nips Mt. Vernon, 3 to 1

MT. VERNON—Mansfield Gorman-Rupp's Bobby Regula fireballed the Mt. Vernon Stone's Grill softballers into submission here last night, 3 to 0.

It was the fifth straight victory for the Mansfield aggregation and pushed Mt. Vernon deeper into fifth place in the North Central Ohio Inter-City softball league. Mt. Vernon has won only two of six league games.

Regula allowed only three hits and struck out 15 in winning his fourth NCO victory.

The visitors picked up seven hits, five in one inning, off Lanning. Ted Bush and Glen Uhlich got doubles in the third to start things off for Gorman-Rupp. Regula, Wayne Hough and Kenny Windsor followed with singles to account for all of the Mansfield runs.

Gorman-Rupp plays the Sandusky Italian-Americans in Sandusky tonight.

George Musso Added To Rocket Grid Staff

CHICAGO — (INS) — George "Moose" Musso today became the second ex-Chicago Bear to be named to the coaching staff of the "new" Chicago Rockets in the all-American football conference.

Musso, who captained the Bears for eight years and has been ranked as one of the standout guards of all time, will coach the Rocket tackles.

Know Your Golf Shots

By HERMAN BARRON
(AP Newsfeatures)

One of golf's most difficult shots comes when you're in a sand trap.

SIXTH OF A SERIES

These are the four things to remember:

1—Take a full swing with the ball in the center of your feet.

2—Be sure you hit down into the sand about 2 or 3 inches in back of the ball.

3—Make a full follow through.

4—Head still remains stationary with eye on the ball throughout the entire swing.

This is the explosion shot which is played out of any trap which guards the green.

Of course, different clubs may be used in playing out of traps. It all depends on your lie, what's in front of the trap and the distance from the green.

Stan Musial In Midst of Hit Rampage; St. Louis Browns Nip Yankees, 2 to 1

By RALPH RODEN
(AP Sports Writer)

Stan Musial is on the warpath again and the fortunes of the St. Louis Cardinals are rising in the National league pennant race.

The Donora, Pa., clouter has hit safely in ten of his last 11 official trips to plate to boost his league-leading batting mark to .405. He also is in the running for every other important individual offensive honor. The Red Bird star leads the loop in runs scored, hits, and triples.

FIFTH LOSS IN ROW

Musial went 3 for 4 against the Giants yesterday as the Cards outslugged the Giants, 12-8, in New York. It was the Giants' fifth straight defeat.

The victory increased the Cardinals' margin over the fourth place Giants to two games, but the Birds remained a game and a half off the pace of the front-running Boston Braves.

Billy Southworth's Braves came from behind and nosed out the Cincinnati Reds, 5-4, in a night game at Boston. The Braves broke a 4-4 tie in the seventh inning when Earl Torgeson singled home Ed Stanky from third.

The second place Pittsburgh Pirates turned back the Phillies, 2-0, in a night game at Philadelphia to remain a half game behind the Braves and a game ahead of the Cardinals. Elmer Riddle limited the Phils to five safeties to gain his eighth victory of the season.

The Chicago Cubs scored four runs in the eighth inning to overcome a 4-2 deficit and went on to beat the Dodgers, 6-4, in a day game at Brooklyn.

All activity in the American league took place at night. The second place Philadelphia Athletics nipped the first place Cleveland Indians, 5-4, to pull to within a game of the Tribe. The St. Louis Browns edged the New York Yankees, 2-1, and the Chicago White Sox beat the Washington Senators, 5-2.

In a well pitched game at St. Louis, Cliff Fannin held the Yankees to three hits. Tommy Henrich homered for the lone Yankee marker in the sixth. Frank Shea was the losing pitcher.

A scheduled night game between the Boston Red Sox and the Tigers in Detroit was postponed because of rain.

Pitching—Elmer Riddle, Pirates—Held the Phils scoreless on five hits in winning his eighth game of the season against two losses. He struck out four and walked two, as Pittsburgh won, 2-0.

Three Teams Deadlocked In Club Softball League

VFW, AVC and Moose lodge tightened their hold on first place in the Club softball league yesterday as they won games from second division teams. Each team has four victories against one loss.

AVC trounced Sons of Herman, 17 to 6, VFW trimmed Amvets, 9-1, and Moose beat American Legion Post 16, 9 to 2, in yesterday's games.

Home runs were hit by Carl Thodosoff of the Amvets, Melvin Harner of AVC, and Fred Bidinger of Sons of Herman. Harner had three for three while Schaub of VFW had two singles and a double in four trips.

VFW Pitcher Ronnie Hunt set Amvets down with four hits and held them scoreless after the second inning.

Locke's Putter Puts Him In Lead

CHICAGO—(AP)—Bobby Locke's magic wand—a rusty, hickory-shafted putter—has cast its spell again over the pro golfers.

The South African today entered the third round of the $15,000 Chicago Victory golf tournament with a nine-stroke edge on the field. Locke carved a 65, six under par, on the 6,587-yard Midlothian course, yesterday, to post a halfway tally of 130. He also had a 65 on opening day, breaking the 10-year-old course record by a stroke.

City's Churches Join In Crusade for Children Program

Cite Need For Aid to War Victims

Contributions to Fund Voluntary

The desperate need of millions of hungry children in the war devastated countries of Europe and Asia will be emphasized in Mansfield churches tomorrow as a part of the city's "Crusade for Children" campaign.

Pastors here have been asked by Rev. Charles W. Stoneburner, president of the Mansfield Ministerial association, to stress the current four-day fund raising drive during their services tomorrow.

Rev. Stoneburner, who represented the association in the meeting of city business and civic leaders which planned the drive here, said a free-will offering at church services tomorrow will be optional with city pastors.

Rev. Stoneburner made a personal appeal to Mansfield churchgoers in addition to that presented by the committee.

MILLIONS NEED HELP

"One child in Mansfield crying for food, or shelter, will set a whole household working to minister to that need," he said. "Millions of children in Europe and Asia are crying. These children are from millions of families which have been uprooted and displaced. These children know labor camps, refugee trains, prison camps, public feeding, improvised shelters and displaced person camps. These children are not the survivors of one tragedy but of a lifetime of chaos, evacuations, disease, cold, hunger. For all or for most of their lifetime they have known destruction, death and destitution.

"These helpless children have been deeply hurt. Terrible impressions have been forced upon them. What kind of Europe or Asia will we have when these children come into maturity? These children will be the ones with whom our children will have to live a decade from now.

"The children can be ministered to, these children can be fed and clothed properly in mind as well as body. Their hurts can be healed and if we help to provide the resources they can become wholesome children—fine future citizens of the united world. Let the families of Mansfield respond to these poor human cries through the Crusade for Children Fund."

Where offerings are not taken in churches, contributions may be sent to Sherman Wentz, named as treasurer for Mansfield's part in the Crusade. There will be no solicitation of funds. Contributions will be entirely voluntary.

Children Present Program Sunday

The annual Children's day program will be presented at the St. Mark's Lutheran church tomorrow at 10:30 a. m.

Children of the beginners, primary, junior and intermediate departments will participate. The young people's choir will lead the club, will speak. Phi-Gamma will present two numbers, "This is My Father's World" and "Little Lights Are Shining."

Rev. C. A. Portz, pastor, will receive infants and children for baptism.

The Hope for a Messiah — ILLUSTRATED SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

By Alfred J. Buescher

Scripture—Ezekiel 34:11-16, 22-31; Daniel 7:13, 14; Zechariah 3:8-10; 6:12, 13; 9:9, 10; 12:10; 13:1; John 19:14

"As a shepherd seeketh out his flock in the day that he is among his sheep that are scattered; so will I seek out My sheep," saith the Lord.

God promised to gather His scattered people from their places of exile, and to bring them to their own land and "feed them upon the mountains of Israel."

"Rejoice greatly, O daughter of Zion; shout, O daughter of Jerusalem; behold, thy King cometh unto thee; He is just," said the Lord God of Israel.

The Messiah would be a descendant of David, coming not as king, but "lowly, and riding upon an ass."

MEMORY VERSE—Psalm 100:5.

450 Pastors To Get Posts

Four hundred and 50 Methodist pastors will receive their assignments for the coming year at the North-East Ohio conference which opens Tuesday at Lakeside.

Among them will be Rev. J. Frank Stewart, pastor of the Central Methodist church, and Rev. C. W. Stoneburner of the First Methodist church. Both have been asked by their congregations to return to their pulpits here for another year.

Rev. John D. Green, superintendent of the Mansfield district, and Mrs. Green left yesterday for Lakeside, where Rev. Green will join other members of the cabinet of Bishop H. Lester Smith in preliminary planning for the conference. The cabinet is made up of eight district superintendents.

An outstanding feature of the conference will be the conclusion of the 28-year episcopal career of Bishop Smith. Although his actual retirement will take place at Indianapolis in July at the time of the jurisdictional conference, this will be the last time he will preside at sessions of the annual conference in Ohio.

New legislation, passed at the national conference in Boston, will be emphasized. Among these items will be that for the recruiting of new ministers and a more adequate and equitable compensation for ministers.

Two Youths Seek Approval As Ministers

Two young men from the Main Street Evangelical UB church will be recommended for the ministry at tomorrow morning's worship service.

The two, James Wolf, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Wolf, 13 Abbeyfeal road, and Philip Duckworth, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wilson Duckworth, 31 West Arch street, are students at the North Central college, Naperville, Ill. They will take part in the service.

Recommendation of the congregation will follow the regular worship. It carries with it the approval for licenses as ministers of the Ohio conference, which meets in annual session at Lancaster in August. Both Wolf and Duckworth are juniors at Naperville.

7 Churches Send Delegates to Shelby

Youth Groups to Attend State Meeting

Members of youth groups of seven Mansfield churches will join with others from all parts of Ohio in the annual Christian Endeavor convention to be held at Shelby for four days, beginning next Thursday and continuing through Sunday, June 27.

Mansfield churches which will join in annual business and worship programs include First Presbyterian, First Christian, Main Street Evangelical UB, First Evangelical UB, Ridgeway Church of God, First Brethren and Mitchell Chapel, AME.

The convention next week will be the 63rd annual conclave for all youth groups affiliated with the CE.

The first session will open Thursday at 10:30 a. m., with a meeting of the administrative committee. Registration will take place between 1 and 5 p. m. with a meeting of the board of trustees at 2 p. m. and the evening service at 8 p. m. Dr. Clarence Edward MacCartney pastor of the First Presbyterian church, Pittsburgh, will speak at this service.

Dr. MacCartney is superintendent of his Sunday school as well as pastor of the church. He is author and lecturer as well as pastor and is organizer of the famed Tuesday Noon club in Pittsburgh, at which he speaks each week to an average of 400 persons.

Friday's session will open with a quiet hour at 9 a. m., in charge of Rev. Robert DeMass, vice president of the Ohio CE Union and pastor of the Drexel Evangelical UB church in Dayton. Conferences and workshops will feature the day with a fellowship banquet at 7 p. m.

BAUMER TO SPEAK

Speaker for the dinner program will be Rev. Harry W. Baumer, past president of the Ohio CE Union. Music will be led by Rev. and Mrs. Al Heinz of Columbus. Rev. Heinz is associate pastor at the Broad Street Methodist church.

An awards competition and election of officers will feature the Saturday afternoon session with a parade through downtown Shelby streets at 6 p. m. The 7:30 p. m. service will be held in the Senior high school auditorium with Rev. Ernest R. Bryan, general secretary of the International Society of Christian Endeavor, as the speaker.

A communion service at 8 a. m. will begin the day's program on Sunday. There will be a picnic at 1 p. m., at the Ganges Evangelical and Reformed church, followed by a service at 3 p. m. Rev. George R. Snyder, missionary from Yuanling, Hunan province, China, will speak and there will be group singing led by Rev. and Mrs. Heinz.

A service at 7 p. m. will bring the conference to a close. At that time, Dr. Elmer Becker, president of Huntington college, Huntington, Ind., will speak and preside at the consecration service.

SUNDAY SCHOOL PICNIC

The annual Sunday school picnic for the St Matthew's Lutheran church will be held next Friday afternoon and evening at South park. The Amoma class of the Sunday school will have charge of serving.

Women Meet In Galion

The second deanery meeting for 1948 of the National Council of Catholic Women, members of the Mansfield Deanery, will be held Sunday at 3 p. m. at the American Legion home in Galion.

Rev. W. Evans Wilson of Toledo will be the guest speaker. Rev. Wilson is assistant diocesan director of the home and foreign missions department.

The meeting is being sponsored by the St. Joseph's parish of Galion. It is open both to men and women in the deanery. Mrs. S. A. Lorens, Galion, president of the parish council there, will be the hostess. Mrs. Charles D. Ritchey is deanery president and Mrs. John F. Daley of Mansfield is president of the Mansfield group.

Choir Boys Go to Camp

Fifteen boys from the choir of Grace Episcopal church will leave Monday for the annual Episcopal choir boys outing at Camp Wa-Li-Ro, Put-in-Bay.

As last year the 62 boys at the camp will be under the direction of Paul Beymer.

They will be accompanied by Rev. and Mrs. Samuel U. J. Peard and son, Richard; Mrs. Dean Eckert, choir director, and Robert E. Schrack, former choir member, now a student at the University of Virginia. Schrack is a former camp counselor.

The camp program will include competition for red and blue badges, on the basis of behavior attitudes, music ability, attendance and like characteristics. Philip Norman and Dick Maxwell, who have already won their blue badges will work toward their red awards.

Mornings at the week-long camp will be given over to choir training and the afternoons to swimming, boating, fishing and other outdoor sports. Each day there will be a 15-minute service at the St. Paul's Episcopal church at which the choir work of the day will be presented.

Two boys from the Mansfield group will be chosen for the annual choirmaster concert on July 12.

Class Marks Its 15th Anniversary

Members of the Capt. Stephenson class of the First Presbyterian church will celebrate their fifteenth anniversary by sitting in a group at the church services tomorrow morning.

Following the worship period, they will go to South park for a picnic. Rev. anud Mrs. David N. Roller and son, Neil, and former class members will be guests.

The class, for married couples, was organized by the late Attorney Robert W. Stephenson, 15 years ago. Since his death in 1941, it has been taught by L. T. Powell.

2 Former Pastors Return To Mansfield Church

Two former pastors will preach at the First Congregational church tomorrow and Sunday, June 27.

They are Rev. Peter Young, now pastor of the Christian Temple at Norfolk, Va., and Rev. Harry Trust, president of Bangor Theological Seminary, Bangor, Me. Both are attending the general assembly of Congregational Christian churches being held at Oberlin.

Rev. Young who will fill the pulpit tomorrow, was pastor here from 1935 to 1945.
